Volume XXXIV

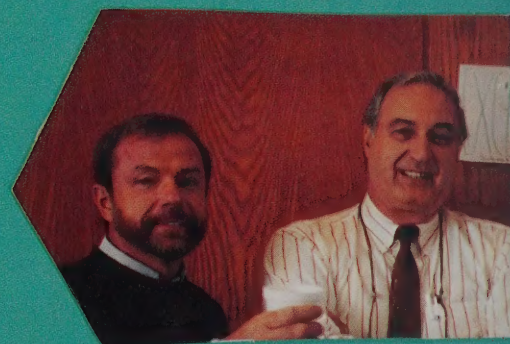

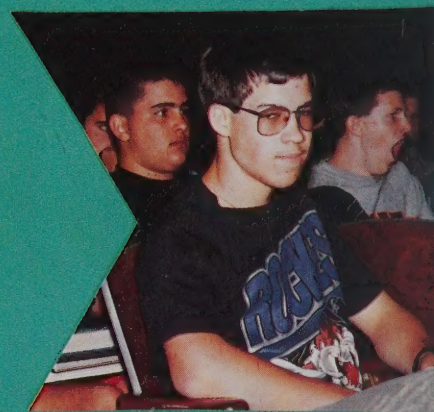

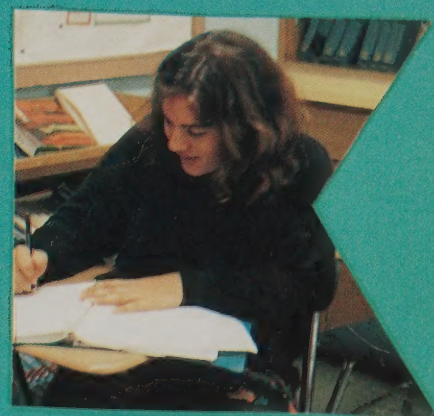

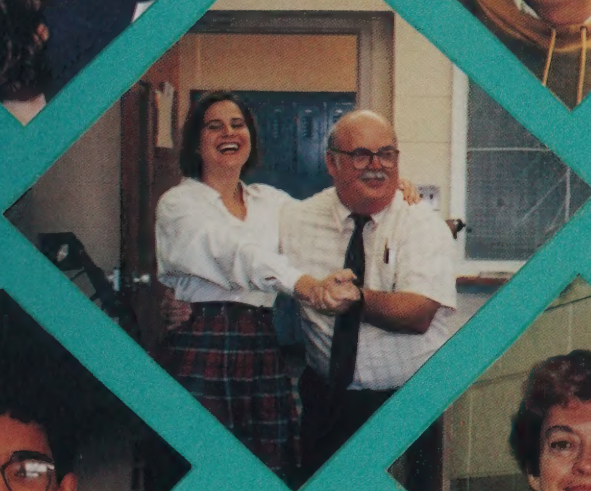

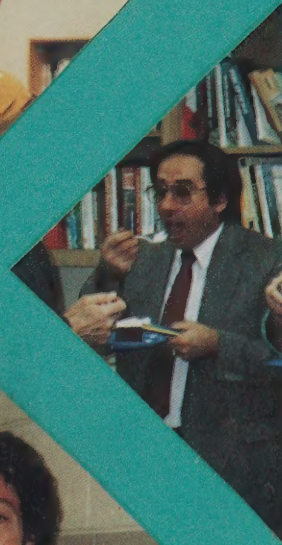

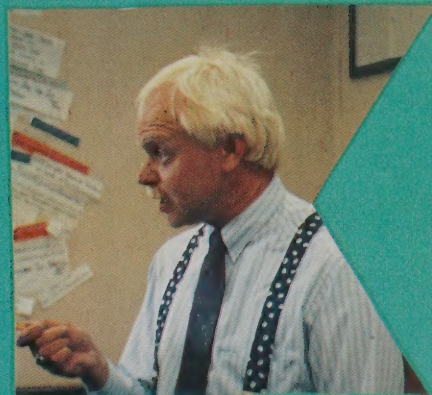

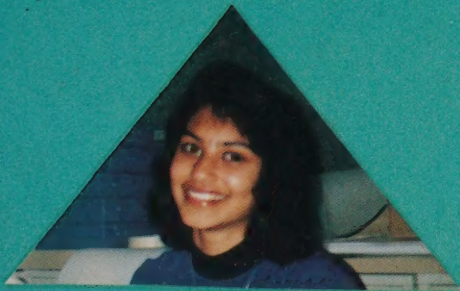

In June 1992, the staff for Yearbook '93 was born! There were a number of obstacles to overcome and we knew we had a lot to learn. The first step was to develop a theme. All the Senior staff had been gathering ideas. It was difficult to imagine how a theme could capture the essence of each part of the Yearbook, but still unify it as a whole.

We are most happy with the idea of "KALEIDOSCOPE," a twistable tube in which patterns of color are optically produced. Each time the tube is turned, a new and brilliant design emerges. The kaleidoscope constantly arranges and rearranges the same pieces into new, different, fascinating designs. Each piece is a part of the whole, but remains an entity unto itself.

This was a concept that could well describe each aspect of our high school life. We are ONE because we have a common bond — we ARE Shrewsbury High School! We belong to many groups or "designs" within the school as we arrange and rearrange ourselves throughout the day, the week, the season, the year. Each "design" is unique, and each "piece of the design" — each of us — is a separate individual.

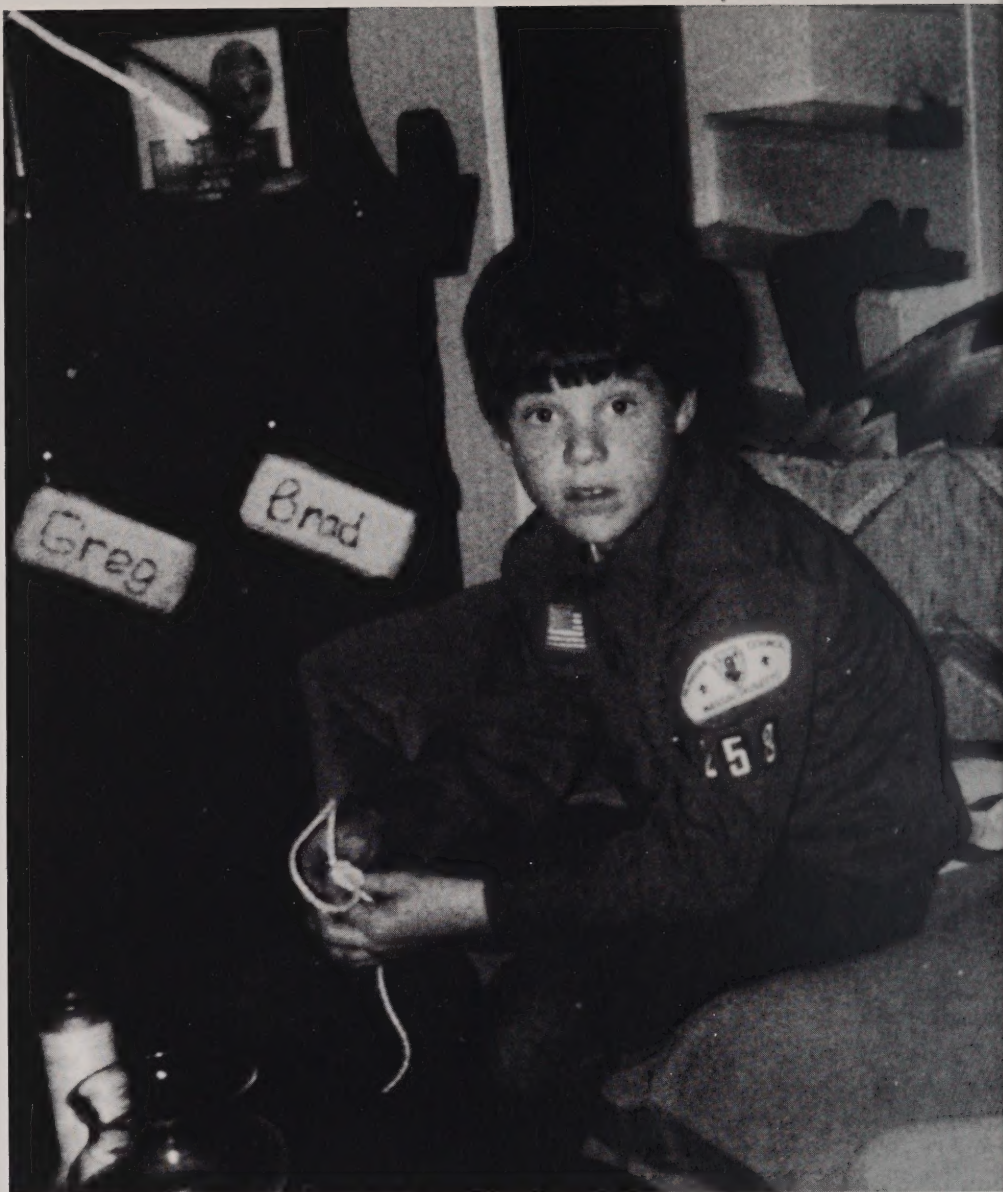

As you enjoy this year's Colonial, notice that we come together as one in so many ways, but we remain uniquely ourselves. We are components of a KALEIDOSCOPE, changing shape as the events around us turn.

► Little tykes Greg Griffin and Jeff Popp carefully tie Boy Scout knots.

▼ Shawn Carlin and Matt Trovato warm up before the big game.

▲ Ready for a run through the sprinkler, it's Erin Alarie, Liz Senosk, Missy Simone, and Stephanie DiBenedetto.

▲ Is it a boy, or is it a girl? It's Anthony Shippole!

▲ With a twinkle in her eye, Stephanie poses for a skating photograph.

How Many Years Ago?

As we proudly cross the stage of Mechanics Hall on graduation night, we the class of 1993, remember when we first entered the high school as eighth graders, nervously dodging the upperclassmen while searching for the elusive pool on the third floor. We remember our struggle for class unity in our first year and those who believed in us, encouraged us onward. We remember our own searches for independence, responsibility, and individuality, and our hope that these qualities would enrich our lives after graduation. We remember the pressures of high school life, grades, SAT's, exams, college applications, and also those events that will make high school a fond memory — the dances, musicals, sporting events, and the class activities. We remember our friends, those we seldom see, and the friendships that will last a lifetime. We remember our teachers, those who were our friends, and those whose classes inspired us in our education.

On graduation night the realities of high school, the friendships, the teachers, the smiles, and the tears will become only memories; and we, the Class of 1993, will move onward toward our futures, full of hope and fondly remembering the past.

▲Tracy Garabedian is truly a vision of innocence.

▲ Catherine Brunell and Kerry Ghize, together as always.

Our Play, "Our Town"

On December 5, 6, and 7, 1991, the Class of 1993 gave a stunning performance on Thornton Wilder's Our Town. Though the stage had virtually no set or props, the audience was able to discern all actions due to the wonderful talents of the cast's ability to pantomime. Living at the turn of the nineteenth century, this play depicts the meaning of life through the everyday schedule of a small town.

... and we danced

On March 23, 1991, the Class of 1993 held their first "big" dance — the Sophomore Semi-Formal. Under the expertise of advisor, Mr. Kevin Rose, the decorating committee transformed the cafeteria into a vision resembling that of a grand ball using blue, black, and white banners, silver streamers, and balloon chandeliers. At 7 o'clock, the guests — many of whom were under the legal driving age — arrived in vehicles of every shape, color, and size. Some, though few, even came in limousines. The Class of '93 moved to the music provided by Perry Conte until 11 o'clock. Over 200 guests danced the last dance which was saved for Peter Gabriel's "In Your Eyes," which the sophomores had voted as the theme song. The memories will be preserved forever in the wonderful formal pictures taken by Gram-pietro Photography and the informal candids by our very own, Mr. Clough. This remarkable cotillion proved to be a splendid success for the Class of 1993.

Mardi Gras

May 9, 1992, 7 p.m. The moment had arrived! Purple, green, and gold decorations matched the gargantuan jack-in-the-box, the centerpiece for our Junior Prom — Mardi Gras. Gleaming white trellises and archways, built over weeks of time under Mr. Rose's supervision, separated the dance and dining areas of the transformed gymnasium. Timarie Micket and Melissa Simone were co-chairs of the decorating committee. Toupin's were ready to serve prime rib, baked stuff chicken and gourmet vegetarian dinners.

The Conte Brothers had set up their equipment, the music adding to the ambiance as the chaperones arrived at the fountain bedecked entrance. Mr. Keegan has created a Mardi Gras backdrop for Prom photographs. All was ready!

Over two hundred Juniors and guests arrived, dined, and danced to their favorite music and applauded Queen Kristen Boule and King Neil Belanger and their court: Erin Alarie, Lori Buono, Nadine Lesperance, Joe Azzarone, Jim Nicholson, and Andy Marks.

In the spirit of Mardi Gras, merrymaking, our Junior Prom will long be remembered by us all!

A Token of Our Respect ... To Mr. Clough

The dedication of a Yearbook is not something to be taken lightly. We brainstormed those personal qualities for which we were looking. There must be a direct affiliation with and affection for the Class of 1993. Assistance to and support of our class was an essential. And was there someone who was always there for us in our time of need?

Twenty nominations were made by the Class of 1993. We studied each carefully and we found the process most difficult. But, finally, twenty became four, each of whom were deserving of the honor. We reviewed our guidelines and the discussion continued. Anecdote after anecdote mentioned one person with increasing frequency.

One member of the Selection Committee remembered a geometry class and the definition of a polygon as Mr. Clough told it: "... a bird that flew away ..." That sense of humor has served the Class of 1993 very well.

Mr. Clough wears a Class Ring like many others in our class, emblazoned with the Advisor Seal. We are impressed with the loyalty that that ring symbolizes. He has been there for us and with us. Many do not know of the "behind the scenes" efforts made to keep us all together.

Mr. Clough is ever present with his cameras. He has always been willing to share his expertise and time. Countless candid chronicle our history here at SHS. Many have found their way into Yearbook '93. We are grateful for the hours devoted to producing this visual history.

One little known anecdote recalls how Mr. Clough saved our class something over $300. A borrowed decorative fountain suffered damage during the course of the Junior Prom. A negotiated arrangement with a buyer who agreed to purchase it "as is" resulted in no cost to our class.

It is because of his willingness to serve our class in any way he can that we proudly dedicate the 1993 Yearbook to Mr. Harry Clough.

▼Mr. Clough is actually helping a yearbook photographer to learn that skill by posing for this picture.

►Dressed to the "nines", Mr. Clough is ready for the Prom.

▲Harry Clough looks toward the Seniors in the stands during Field Day.

▼Our faithful administrative advisor Mickey Brandmeyer has always been there when we are in need.

... and to Mrs. Hogan, Mr. Rose, and Mr. Brandmeyer

The Class of 1993 has been very fortunate to have as its advisors Mr. Kevin Rose, Mr. Harry Clough, and Mrs. Susan Hogan. They have given of their time and energy to help and support our class in so many ways! Think of how much Mr. Rose put into our Junior Prom: the trellises, the archways, and all the wiring necessary for the ceiling. Mr. Clough has overseen all the class finances and taken hundreds of pictures which chronicle our travels through SHS. His computer skills have been invaluable to us in putting together our Junior Class Play Program and other publications. Mrs. Hogan has been the force behind our fundraisers. Remember the M and M's? Who can forget those frantic hours spent painting the banner that advertised the Junior Class Play? It may not look very large hanging above Maple Avenue opposite Beal School. But, you should see how large it was lying on Mrs. Hogan's classroom floor!

Our advisors have been their for us! They never gave up on us! We cannot say enough to thank them for the hours of time and their generosity. We salute you Mr. Rose, Mr. Clough, and Mrs. Hogan!

▲Sue Hogan, smiling as usual, is always ready to help our class.

After five years of dedication and hard work, here we are — June 1993! When we first entered the school, in September 1988, it seemed as though we would be here forever. There were so many students and Shrewsbury High School seemed so huge. Day by day, we grew more at ease with our surroundings and soon, we felt as though we ruled the hallways.

Not everything has been easy of course. But, we have celebrated the good times and overcome the trials. Graduation is finally here.

We would like to thank all of those who have supported our class over the years, as well as all those who have helped us out individually, in smaller, yet dramatic ways.

As a class, we have grown immensely; not only socially and intellectually, but there has been growth in character as well. Valuable information has been taught to us within the classroom and also outside of it. And, we have learned! Foreign exchange students have shared much with us, and we hope we have introduced them to that which is our best.

The graduating class of Shrewsbury High School has made it! We are proud to call ourselves the Class of 1993.

Music is an important segment of our many faceted education at Shrewsbury High School. From the Orchestra's classical concert selections to the Band's routines and show tunes from the stands; from the Jazz Band's "blues" and improvisation to Concert Choir's and A Capella's Winter Concert, music embellishes sports, plays, holidays, dances and everyone's personal life.

Audiences are appreciative of the orchestra's renditions of the "Four Seasons" by Vivaldi and Bach's "Brandenburg Concerti." Although the band musicians are the same, the marching band in the stands and on the field prepare different repertoires than that performed at the traditional Holiday Concert. At the football games, we are likely to hear "Thundercrest," "The Fight Song" and "Prince of Thieves," while concert goers enjoy "Troika" and "Sleigh Ride." Both orchestra and band members collaborate on the annual musical. Class of 1993 will especially remember "Bye Bye Birdie" from their Junior Year and "Peter Pan," their last year at SHS.

Concert Choir entertains with "Fantasia," "This Land is Your Land" and "Man of La Mancha." The A Capella Chorus thrills with "Kyrie" and P.D.Q. Bach's "Good King Kong." The entire choir ensemble, joined by Alumni and Friends from the audience, share the joy of singing Handel's "Hallelujah Chorus" each Holiday Season.

The Jazz Band has quite a following at SHS. It is noted that the week that the group performs during lunches many of the Faculty drift in to listen and enjoy the renditions of familiar jazz favorites like "Jive at Five" or "Fly Me to the Moon." Students seem to prefer more contemporary pieces such as "Tiger of San Pedro" or "Lean on Me." Every listener pays special attention to the great improvisational work created by group members.

SHS Musical groups are quality performers. "Proof of the Pudding" is the very large number of performers who win District and State seats each year.

Tune into the Band.

Lynn Milosz leads the band in a catchy tune.

▲ Jason Bryan, Jim Hutchinson, Reuven Singer, and Jeff Harbert rehearse their fancy footwork for the upcoming half-time show.

▲▲ The band leads a Field Day song. Are some "potato heads" worried about their head-gear?

Arto Asadoorian, Bill Lepiesza, and Gary Buono, members of the notorious Potato Heads, take a break from noodling on their saxes.

Clubs are indeed a crucial part of our Shrewsbury High School community. They provide a much needed outlet to escape the routine of school days and explore and tap into our many talents and interests. Not only that, but clubs give us an excellent opportunity to meet and share ideas, theories, poetry, political opinions, or even chess strategies with others who have the same interests.

Clubs at Shrewsbury High range from one end of the proverbial spectrum to the other; we have everything from NFL to the Ski Club, from Excelsior to Student Initiatives, from Amnesty International to K.I.T.E.S., from Social Dance to Math Teams. And, of course, there is Yearbook!

This variety clearly demonstrates the diversity which exists at Shrewsbury High School.

Welcome to Sports at SHS!

SHS students are taught to excel both in the pursuit of academics and athletics as well. Encouraged and trained by one of the greatest of coaching staffs, SHS athletes have come to symbolize the epitome of sportsmanship, desire, and talent.

While the foliage floats from the trees, the cross country teams race through Dean Park; the soccer players get their kicks; the football players fight for pride, poise, and attitude; and the field hockey teams play knick-knacks on their sticks.

By the time winter rolls around, the gymnasts have already begun practicing their routines; the hockey players warm up for their icy competitions; the runners have abandoned the trails and moved inside for indoor track; and the basketball teams dribble away.

As the ice melts, and the flowers bloom, the track team migrates outside for less cramped “quarters”; the tennis teams “ace” their way to victory; the golf team is in full swing; the baseball players bat for the fences; and the crew teams oar the length of Lake Quinsigamond . . .

FIELD HOCKEY

... but we had fun!

With the loss of twelve graduated seniors and an injured goalie, the field hockey team was faced with a challenging season from the start. But, they had fun! The girls played tough all year and never gave up their fighting spirit. They held their head high during the entire season, despite many losses. Working together, they put all they had into every game. Their endurance pulled them through a hard fought night game against Fitchburg with a 3-2 victory. The Colonials also celebrated wins against Marlboro, North Middlesex, and Algonquin — twice.

High scorers and League All-Stars Meg Driscoll and Nancy Dennis were strong team leaders as captains. Overall the team improved greatly and skillfully ended their season with a 5-10-2 record. Coach Pamela Krause looks forward to next year with all but two players returning. Excellent players such as Catherine Gorman, Meg Krause, Sara DiPilato, and Liz Miller will hopefully lead the team into a better season next year. The talent of the team will surely make it one to be reckoned with.

KICKING BACK!

Girls' Soccer

The girls' soccer team had an outstanding season. Through their spirit and talent, they posted yet another winning record. The defense, led by senior captains Andrea Figueras and Lindsay Drab, was one of the strongest in the league. Leading scorers Shelley Christie and eighth grader Megan Young lent power to the forward line, making the Colonial offense nearly unstoppable.

One of the many highlights of the season came when the Colonials beat last year's rival, Nashoba, 5 to 3 in a touch and go game. Other standout games included their victories over Algonquin and Holy Name.

With everyone working hard and playing as a team the girls advanced to District play. Sadly they were beaten in the first round by a strong Holy Name team. The girls are hoping for another successful season next year.

BOYS' SOCCER

Shoot, win, score!

The boys' soccer team began with high expectations, but fell short of their playoff goals by losing some tough games down the stretch. They kicked off the season against Wachusett at home and tied it in the ebbing minutes of the second half. Shrewsbury would tie Wachusett again at their field later in the season.

Even though the boys showed great effort under the guidance of their new coach Jim McKinley, and the leadership of Peter Agbay and Kevin Reagey, Co-captains, on the field they fell victim to many one and two goal losses. Senior goalie, Neil Belanger, saved Shrewsbury from going down a goal more than once, and he was recognized for his efforts not only with team MVP but also as T&G All Star.

The soccer team has many faces that will return next year with renewed hunger to reach the playoffs. Watch out St. John's!

When the going gets tough . . . Football

The Colonials began their season with high hopes, but were stifled by their rigorous schedule. Behind a talented coaching staff and tri-captains Greg Griffin, Brian Webber, and Dave Young, the team was able to work together and find glimmering highlights. After losing their opener to Bartlett, the Colonials battled back with a great victory over arch rival Marlboro.

The team was led on offense by senior rushers Joe Quinn and the brothers Shaidnagle: Fred and Dave. The defense held strong, anchored by Mike Gordon and leading tacklers Dave Young and Mike Erwin. For their performance Young, Gordon, and Griffin received Mid-Wach League All-Star recognition.

Next year's Colonial team hopes for a strong season with the help of Patrick Finacom, Mike Erwin, and a talented Senior class-to-be.

Girls' X-Country

This year's Cross Country team started their season out on the "right foot." Late in August the team met for the first time for practices. After training together for two weeks the team traveled to the North Middlesex News Race, and returned a team of winners. This set the pace for another successful season.

Other highlights of the season included their defeat over rival Fitchburg and their undefeated record in the Mid Wach League. In October the girls placed third in the Nashoba Invitational. Later in the month they placed second in the league meet. To finish the season the team traveled to Gardner for the District meet. They placed third, enabling them to compete in the state meet.

RUNNIN' FOREVER!

Boys' X-Country

Under the training of new assistant coach Jim Smith, and Co-Captains Josh Steiner and Tom Baumann, the Colonial Cross Country Team kicked off in a very successful season opener by managing to place six runners in the top twenty-five at the Knights of Columbus Invitational, seeming to fortell a prosperous upcoming season. However, the season proved to be a rebuilding year as the Colonials ran to a 3-6 season. In their first meet the team posted a 21-40 victory over long time arch-rival Marlboro. They won two more meets against Leominster and North Middlesex.

Among the many highlights of the season were: Tom Baumann's state meet finish, eighth grade sensation, Curtis Falzoi, running the third fastest time on the home course, and new comers Dave Roman and Rich Perna, who proved to be tremendous assets to the team.

Who Says Cheerleading's Not A Sport?

The SHS Cheerleaders are at practice Saturday mornings at 8 A.M.! Then, of course, there are the regular daily practices! Wednesday nights are earmarked for work sessions on tumbling and pyramid building at the Gymnastics Learning Center. Besides the cheering at games the squad is preparing for Tournament season! It is a very hectic schedule! Routines include cheers, dancing and very difficult stunts. The SHS Cheering Squad was last year's Midland League Champs, outmaneuvering both Algonquin and Milford. This year several new members have replaced the six graduating Seniors. Having to keep up to high SHS standards, means grueling practices! Cheering not a sport? NOT!

Just Wait 'Til Next Year!

While everyone else was freezing this winter vacation, the Varsity Team was in Florida facing heated competition: one win in three games. The regular season saw numerous injuries handicap the Team. Tara Largess was unable to play, but wait 'til next year! Cheryl Zalieckas and Mo Duhamel picked up the point guard duty this year. Lindsay Drab and Sarah Dobson, the Co-Captains, provided strong rebounding and scored many points off the boards. Katie Pratt was the leading scorer for the Team. Ashley Marquis played strong defense as well as adding to the scoring column. Liz Senosk, Sharon Mickevich and Kristen Mulhall made strong contributions when called upon.

On the Rebound . . . Boys Basketball

The SHS Boys' Basketball Team looked to have a competitive season with Coach Keith Hochstein back at the helm. The Team keyed on the strong guard play of Captain Jeremy O'Connor and tough inside performances by the other returning Senior, Tom Allen. O'Connor obtained support in the backcourt from newcomer Andy Roy, while Ron Scarborough and Jeff Zalieckas added help to Allen down low. Pat Finacom was an impressive presence while Freshmen guards Kareem Tatum and Matt Hochstein were strong contributors. Newcomer, Senior Tim Sayegh also aided the Team greatly, along with Junior forward Mike Reilly. Not to be overlooked are the efforts of Assistant Coach Ron Senosk and the cheers of the always loyal Colonial Fans!

The Shrewsbury High Gymnastics Team has dominated the Mid-Wach League for the past four years coached by Dorothy Niechwadowicz-Walsh and Vivian Siddell. Undefeated records and record high all-around team scores have earned them the respect of opposing coaches and gymnasts alike. Captains Richelle D'Elia and Erin Alarie with Junior Tegan DeWallace earned high scores leading the Colonials to continuous victories. Seniors Richelle D'Elia, Erin Alarie and Nicole DeFosse will be missed next year, but the team appears to have a bright future with standouts Tegan DeWallace, Beth Gregory, Sue Watt, Dana Young, Jan Ronayne and Merissa Haddad.

What's a Turtle? ... Hockey

The SHS Hockey Team finished last year with an 8-12 record. This year they will try their best to break the "500" plateau. Lead by Captain Darren Mawdsley and Assistant Captains Dave Rischitelli and Nick Vincequere, the Team has the talent and skill to do so. Important to the effort will be plays by Dan Murphy, Chad Beaver, Adolfo Fabregat, Shawn Carlin and Goalie Paul Wilson, who will be sharing ice time with Junior Goalie, Kevin Roy. Shrewsbury is a strong contender because the team has good depth with a talented 2nd and 3rd line. Ed Bourget, Kevin Bosma and new comer Jeff Lemire will provide goals and Coach Phil Irving and Assistant Coach Chris Magnuson will be the motivating force behind the Team. A big energizing boost was provided by the new uniforms the Team wears this year: the first since ice hockey was introduced to Shrewsbury back in the early 80's!

Shrewsbury's "Right On" Track!

The Boys' Indoor Track Team hopes to continue its winning ways. The sprinting power of Mailman and Woodall is missed, the Team must rise to the challenge of filling the void. Captains David and Fred Shaidnaigle hope to lead their team to a League Title. Sprinters Joe Azzarone, Joe Quinn, Dave Young, Clint Fogg and Junior Jason Costa should help achieve that goal. The phenomenal distance strength of Tom Baumann and the explosive force of shot putter John Knipe are two areas of great strength for the Team.

The Girls' Indoor Track Team is young but strong. The season started with two wins: over Notre Dame and Algonquin. The Team is running well and competing strongly at season's start. The schedule includes Fitchburg and Wachusett, sure to be tough. But the Girls will do their best and look forward to a successful season. Captain Andrea Figueras' strength and speed over hurdles and the ability and experience of Julie Cardone, Johanna Grochowalski, Mandy Snyder, Liz Morgan, Jen Ludovico, Nancy Dennis, Joanna Nelson, Courtney Ryall and Shelley Christie are mainstays of the Team.

At Shrewsbury High School, we are fortunate to have a faculty, for whom teaching is not just a job, but a commitment to which they devote much time and energy. This is evident by the successful programs and activities that students at SHS have available to them. Shrewsbury High School is known state wide for its computer, music, and physical education programs. Its academic program is exciting and challenging all the way from Art through World Civilizations! The Clubs and Activities section of the '93 Yearbook clearly shows the many student interests served at SHS and the advisors who make it all possible. Although teaching can sometimes be a thankless job, the Yearbook Staff takes this time to recognize and appreciate our faculty. The School Committee prepares for their bi-weekly session of Policy Making for the schools. Standing: Mr. David Keenan, Mrs. Joan Ethier, Mrs. Joanne Adams and Mr. James Grosso stand behind Dr. John Collins, Superintendent of Schools, and Chair of the Committee, Mrs. Paula Buonomo. Managing the daily affairs of the School District are to the left: Dr. Collins, Mr. Peter Rock, Business Manager, and Assistant Superintendent, Dr. Caroline Tripp.

▼▼ Guidance Secretary Anna D'Elia and Phyllis Mariano, Registrar, make sure the Class Ranks are updated.

▼ Judy Garvey, Counselor and 10th Grade Advisor, seems upset at Field Day "Wheelbarrow" results.

Everyone knows that a school has daily English Class lectures, Chemistry Lab experiments, Music rehearsals, Math exercises, and History lessons in addition to dozens and dozens of other offerings. Such is the stuff of our high school classrooms! But, behind the scenes, exists a seemingly endless list of tasks vital to our student body. Monitoring SAT's and a variety of other testing programs, determining grade point averages, scheduling courses, arranging college representative visitations, processing college applications, calculating class ranks, and publishing a monthly Guidance Newsletter are but a few of the essential tasks accomplished by the Shrewsbury High School Guidance Department. The efforts of the counselors, Ms. Dolan, Mr. DiPilato, Ms. Galipeau, Mr. Hassett and Mrs. Garvey with assistance from the organized and efficient Registrar, Mrs. Mariano and Mrs. Anna D'Elia are necessary to students' academic existence! Following each student from Grade 8 onward, the guidance counselor advises, problem solves and deals with the myriads of difficulties each student faces in five years at SHS.

▲Kelly Grampietro, Robyn Alizzeo, and Brian Huggins prepare to host the Halloween edition of Colonial Magazine.

▲Director Derek Capurso ponders over the next camera angle.

◀Floor Manager Charlie Davis reviews the show outline.

As Eighth Graders we enter the school at the bottom of the totem pole. But, we soon begin to climb. Fancy pencil cases give way to hopefully a pen; eighteen notebooks are consolidated into the “everything folder”; and getting to class on time loses that inspiring thrill. As we travel through the rituals inherent to SHS: field days, the homecoming dances, semi-formals, proms, blue slips, and school lunches, we learn that there isn’t a third floor to this school. Someday we, too, will look back on these days, and their existence will begin to fade. Until then we are the underclassmen.

The Juniors rehearse, arrange, and plan the Junior Class Play and their first Prom. The Sophomore class sells coupon books to raise money for their first big dance — the Semi-formal. The Freshmen celebrate their triumph in the tug-of-war event at field day and prepare for their own Freshmen Spirit Day. The Eighth Graders try to find their niche at Shrewsbury High, be it clubs, music groups, or sports.

▼Amy, Mike and Joe think about Class Ring orders.

2. At a friend's house
3. At the Greendale Mall

Hey Jen, what is your favorite quote?

▼ "The best way to keep a heart alive is to be unafraid to use it." — Jen Grosso

Tell us your most embarrassing moment.

▲ Brad Schmidt reluctantly answers, "When I sang the Zorro theme song in my chemistry class."

"In freshman year, I was in the wrong English class (12th grade English) because my schedule was messed up." — Kim Harkins (Don't worry, Kim. You are not the first person to do that!)

What would you change about the world situation today?

► "I would hope for an end to the fighting in Yugoslavia, a fair long-lasting Middle East peace, a Republican Congress, and a Red Sox team that could win the World Series." — David Weingart

Survey 1995

Where do you see yourself in 20 years?

►Shrewsbury High will be very proud of Sarah Vallee, for she predicts she'll be "giving a Nobel Peace Prize acceptance speech."

►Jen Nolle will still be trying to survive another of Mr. Mastrorio's classes.

When are you most creative?

While performing a mogul jump, Pete Yablonski admits that skiing puts him in his most creative mood.

When confronted with "an unusual situation," Marysa Thomas is most creative.

What is your favorite time of the school year?

1. The Very Last Day
2. The Spring
3. The Winter

How many hours do you spend on the phone?

1. Under one hour
2. Two hours
3. More than three hours

If you could go anywhere, where would it be?

1. Italy
2. Hawaii
3. Home

Who do you consider your hero?

▼While preparing for the 1993 musical, Heather Kuhn admits that Peter Pan is her hero.

Sallee Azzarone states proudly, "My mom is ▲ my hero."

The class of 1995's favorite movies varied from well-known classics to the latest "flicks."

Jenny Shulman and Julie Swartwout are partial to very different movies. The Breakfast Club is Jenny's favorite while Julie enjoys viewing Big Bird Goes to China.

Survey 1996

If you could meet absolutely anyone, who would it be?

►Adam Popkin was eager to tell the yearbook staff that he would want to meet Magic Johnson (Good choice, Adam!)

We tapped into the consciences of the members of the class of 1996, when we asked about their biggest concerns:

Monica DeStefano, environmentally aware, claimed that the "depleting rainforests" were her biggest concern.

Angelique Phillips, with eyes towards the future, says she is most concerned about, "being known for my poetry."

On the silver screen or in the pages of a magazine, here are 1996's favorite stars and models:

1. Cindy Crawford
2. Luke Perry
3. Martin Lawrence

One may wonder where the class of 1996 prefers to shop. Well, the most popular stores are:

1. Spag's
2. The Gap
3. The Limited

From "Pop" to "Alternative Rock," these songs are music to the class of 1996's ears:

1. "End of the Road" by Boyz II Men
2. "November Rain" by Guns 'n' Roses
3. "Under the Bridge" by The Red Hot Chili Peppers

Whether famous or personal, who do you consider your hero?

▼The yearbook staff received many responses, but Stephanie Clermont gave an unforgettable answer stating her hero is "anyone I can trust."

In this most complex world, what do you find most confusing?

Melissa Baima gives a response to which all of us should pay attention: "How can people abuse the Earth, and not even care?"

Survey 1997

What advice might you offer next year's eighth graders?

"Don't ask any upperclassmen for directions," says Lauren Masiello.

"There is no third floor bowling alley." Andy Hannagan blushes to admit.

The class of 1997's favorite sport:

1. Basketball
2. Soccer
3. Baseball

The top three subjects according to the eighth graders:

1. Math
2. Geography
3. Science

The Class of 1997's choice of the best movies on the silver screen.

1. Terminator 2
2. Wayne's World
3. Star Trek

If you could take anyone out to dinner, who would it be?

"The entire yearbook staff!" Steven Chambers says, hoping to get a free yearbook.

This group unanimously voted to treat Bruce Schwoegler to dinner.

What is your favorite band:

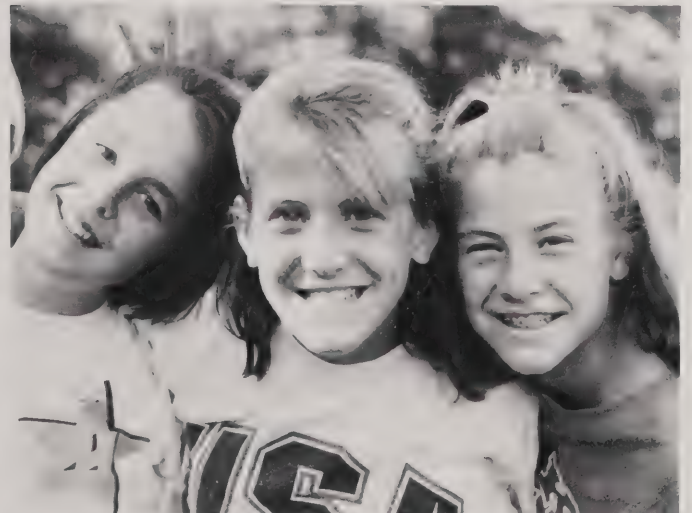

Jill Turnquist says The Cure makes her feel "Just like Heaven."

What was your biggest concern about coming to the high school?

► "Upperclassmen." Matt Holmes replies cautiously.

If you could take anyone out to dinner, who would it be?

► "All of the cheerleaders!" Max Burwick replies as he tries to secure his weekend plans.

► NO, NO, The camera is this way!

"What? The Yearbook is only twenty-five dollars?"

"How is that possible?"

"Where did the staff get the money to produce the Yearbook?"

These questions were asked by many Shrewsbury High Students and Faculty as they purchased their copy of the '93 Yearbook. This year, the 1993 Colonial was rather inexpensive compared to those of past years. Part of the lower cost is due to local community companies and businesses willingly placing ads in this section. The 1993 Colonial Yearbook Staff and the Senior Class are grateful to all of you for placing advertisements in this year's issue.

We would also like to thank Families, Friends, and Class Members for their ads. We would not have been able to make the '93 Yearbook possible without you!

Something new this year is the page sponsor. Some Clubs, Departments, Homerooms, Sports' Teams, and Music Ensembles have sponsored their page in the Yearbook. We appreciate the sign of your support.

As you glance through these pages of advertisements, notice those who have supported the '93 Yearbook and make an effort to support OUR supporters!

The family pictures and messages are always fun. Read them and try to see if you can decipher who IS in each childhood picture. Can you believe how much we have changed over the years? Memories are lasting impressions: a KALEIDOSCOPE of life!

And a woman who held a babe against her bosom said, Speak to us of Children.

And he said:

Your children are not your children.

They are the sons and daughters of Life's longing for itself.

They come through you but not from you,
And though they are with you yet they belong
not to you.

You may give them your love but not your thoughts,

For they have their own thoughts.

You may house their bodies but not their souls,

For their souls dwell in the house of tomorrow,
which you cannot visit, not even in your dreams.

You may strive to be like them, but seek not to make them like you.

For life goes not backward nor tarries with yesterday.

You are the bows from which your children as living arrows are sent forth.

The archer sees the mark upon the path of the infinite, and He bends you with His might that His arrows may go swift and far.

Let your bending in the archer's hand be for gladness;

For even as He loves the arrow that flies, so
He loves also the bow that is stable.

Peter:

Your accomplishments to date are many, and you have brought tremendous pride and happiness to our lives. Academically, athletically, and socially, you have participated, enjoyed, and flourished. Your high school friendships and memories may fade with the passing of time, but they will always be cherished and never totally forgotten.

Fleet, you have character and integrity; and that is the substance of greatness. May your heartaches be few and may all your dreams become reality. The next four years should be the most enjoyable of your life. Appreciate, participate, learn, grow and flourish; but mostly — ENJOY!

Love Always,

Mom and Dad

Fleet Pete — you are the BEST!

Congratulations Michael!

Seems like only yesterday you were going off to Preschool with Richard and Richelle and now you are off to college. You worked hard and accomplished a lot. We're so proud of you! Follow your dreams and we know they will all come true.

WE'RE PUBLIC POWERFUL !

Local people pulling together to meet local needs—that's what public power is all about.

Because public power is community owned, we all have a say in how it serves us.

Because it's nonprofit, consumers and the community reap all the benefits.

And, because public power is locally controlled, it helps set—and achieve—the economic and environmental goals of our community.

That makes public power a business that looks good to new business. And that means more people pulling for the future of our community.

Look at public power in a new light. After all, it's yours.

And so, the '93 Colonial Yearbook comes to a close. But, as it began, we focus again on KALEIDOSCOPE! From "A" to "Z", Shrewsbury High School, means and is many things to all of those within its Community:

We celebrate diversity with our Clubs and Activities;

We encourage curiosity with our Academic offerings;

We foster camaraderie on all our Sports Teams;

We develop Class Unity, but at the same time keep sight of supporting each other as individuals.

For all these reasons, KALEIDOSCOPE, is an apt name for this year's Colonial Yearbook and an excellent example of what Shrewsbury High School is all about.

KALEIDOSCOPE is Kate Shaw's idea. The theme's creation and recreation throughout the Yearbook is a collaboration between Kate and Leila Samara.
